

STAT!Ref EvidenceAlerts

A Value-Added Resource

STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts Email and RSS Feed

Your subscription includes the ability to have STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts delivered to you daily via email or RSS feed. STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts give you access to evidence-based medicine information from current research of over 130 premier clinical journals. These pre-rated EBM alerts are selected for quality, clinical relevance and newsworthiness by a panel of practicing physicians in conjunction with McMaster University (McMaster PLUS). You customize your EBM alerts by selecting the areas that interest you from a range of healthcare disciplines. Receive relevant EBM information fast and save yourself time that would have been spent scanning numerous clinical journals.

STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts Include:

- Choice of Areas of Interest
Receive customized EBM alerts catered to your healthcare interests.
- Time-Saving Flexibility
No longer scan numerous clinical journals to find the information you need.
Receive relevant EBM information fast.
- Daily Notifications
Receive emails or RSS notifications of important new research about the diagnosis, treatment, prognosis, etiology and economics of medical conditions
- Free Service
If your institution subscribes to STAT!Ref you have the ability to receive STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts

What is RSS?

RSS (Really Simple Syndication) is an XML-based Web standard that allows you to display the latest headlines from your favorite websites using special programs called RSS readers (also news readers, news aggregators) and then directly access the articles you wish to see. The STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts RSS feed delivers information from the latest updates in STAT!Ref Evidence Alerts and links back to the EBM updates you selected to receive.

How do I use RSS?

To use RSS you can use your browser's bookmarks. If your browser does not have this capability, download an RSS reader that will allow you to collect and display RSS feeds. Many free readers are available. Search the Web for "news aggregator" or "RSS reader" to locate a reader to download. Please follow your specific RSS reader's instructions for setting up an RSS Feed.

RSS readers within a browser

These browsers automatically detect sites by illuminating an icon in the toolbar.

STAT!Ref
The premier healthcare e-source

www.statref.com • 800-901-5494 • 307-733-5494

Over for Medical News Feed

STAT!Ref Medical News Feed

Keeping Health Professionals Informed

The STAT!Ref Medical News Feed, in conjunction with Reuters Health Medical News, keeps health professionals ahead of the curve with the latest key developments in the world of medicine and pharmaceuticals. Produced by the dedicated team of journalists specializing in medicine and pharmacology, this service is an essential news resource for all educational institutions, medical programs, nursing programs, pharmaceutical businesses and other health information departments.

Key Features:

- Coverage of 150+ leading international medical journals and 80 major conferences and symposia
- More than 60 healthcare and therapeutic verticals in areas such as oncology, cardiology, infectious diseases, mental health, women's health, diabetes and more
- Written by experts, for experts. The right amount of complexity, detail and depth for a health professional audience in an easy-to-digest news format
- Flexible content and delivery, including customized topic feeds
- Access to daily updates and a complete news archive approximately 20–25 stories per day

Benefits:

- STAT!Ref technology and customer service paired with Reuters Information, included at no extra cost in every subscription.
- Relevant, medical news for healthcare professionals
- An advanced news source for medical media
- Reliable and timely business intelligence information for corporate and hospital intranets
- Comprehensive and current clinical research updates for medical libraries

STAT!Ref

The premier healthcare e-source

www.statref.com • 800-901-5494 • 307-733-5494